Subject: Disaster Debris Management Workshops for Local Governments

As in past years, the Solid Waste Section is offering disaster debris management training prior to hurricane season, which begins on June 1. The one-day training includes guidance provided by the Section's Field Operations Branch personnel for the temporary staging and storage of storm debris, site selection, separation, and processing of various waste types. The training will also explain the process by which the Field Operations Branch provides coordination with appropriate state and federal agencies to determine impacts on public health and the environment and to make possible FEMA reimbursements with regard to debris management in declared disasters.

Upon completion of the training, local governments and other interested parties will have gained knowledge for decision making and for making preparations required to manage disaster debris, including a link to the division and other resources. Training will be provided by Field Operations Branch Regional Environmental Senior Specialists and Division of Air Quality staff.

Each training workshop will begin at 10:00 a.m. and end at 3:00 p.m., with an hour allotted for lunch (lunch will be on your own). Please pre-register by calling the Field Operations Branch contact listed for the training workshop you plan to attend, or call if you have questions.

The workshop dates, locations, and contacts are listed on the next page.
